ENDLESS WOOD Product of the week

We are excited to present to you our new collection of wooden boiserie, designed to transform spaces with style and elegance.

Endless Wood, part of the "Architectural Surfaces" program, combines quality craftsmanship and innovative design, offering customized solutions for every environment, from the living room to the bedroom.

The collection can be created in the most disparate finishes: in fact, we have in our catalog of over 50 types of essences, from the most traditional, such as walnut and oak, to the most valuable, such as ebony.

Visit our website to discover all the options and write to us to discover the different finishes and to develop your project with us.

CUSTOMER OF THE WEEK

INLAB

In Milan, TreP's Design Lab is with Inlab, our reference partner for the city.

The show room, also our home to the "Fuorisalone" events, is located in Via Balestrieri N. 10, between the "Zona Sarpi", a new reference in the city for the "Design Week", and the Arena Civica, north of Sempione Park.

Inlab, which also recently opened a new branch in Como, is a reality inspired by the laboratories of the past, the places where artisans and artists of all kinds studied and created their works.

InLab's "interior laboratory" is now a space where architects and designers can find the right inspiration for their creations.

In the showroom, a space completely dedicated to TreP, you can find a wide display of our products: from wooden doors to aluminum dividers up to the new boiserie.

On our website you can find the contacts to make an appointment with InLab projects:

PROJECT OF THE WEEK

SURFACE GLASS

This week we present a project created by Architect V. Panicali, for the Dr Calabresi's Medical Practice in Avezzano, Abruzzo.

Built by TecnoEdil, the project was created by using all the elements that make up our Surface Glass collection.

Fixed and sliding elements to give life to work rooms, swing doors as room dividers and partitions to create independent, autonomous and bright environments.

The architect also designed particular customized decorations for the various elements. The Surface Glass Collection is not only residential but also offices and laboratories.

By visiting the dedicated section of the site you can find some projects where you can draw inspiration for your next creations:

2A FLORENCE DESIGN

New Contract Office in New York

We are pleased to present a new collaboration that allows us to expand our commercial structure abroad, now active in the United States: after the opening of the Los Angeles.

Design Lab with Ricca last year, on Robertson Boulevard, we are present in New York with a Contract office which allows us to consolidate our presence on the East Coast.

Alessio Annunziata, of 2A Florence Design, a company dedicated to high-end Made in Italy, with experience also in the creation of custom made projects, is our new partner in the area, able to offer pre- and post-sales assistance services, from logistics to installation, for architects and interior designers.

For any request, Alessio's contact details are indicated in the contact section of the site:
